HOUSE.

WASHINGTON Dec 3 —Several bills were introduced for the re coinage of the silver trade dollar, and the standard silver dollar, for the repeal of the resumption act, and for the appointment of committee on the yellow fever epidemic

A bill introduced to-day by Representative Phillips provides that the redemption of notes in coin shall be suspended whenever the coin in the treasury shall be reduced to $50,000,000, and that when the amount of coin in the treasury exceeds $100 000,000, the surplus shall be used for the redemption of bonds bearing the highest rate of interest that are subject to the call

A bill was introduced by Mr Cox of New York, to give notice of the termination of the treaty of 1868 with the North German confederation

By Ward —To abolish the tariff on matches

By Harris of Virginia—To abolish the requirement of a proof of loyalty as a condition precedent to obtaining pensions for services in the war of 1812

By Rainey —To punish election frauds

by Bell —To authorize tobacco raisers to sell their products without payment of taxes

Chalmers —To prevent corruption in elections

Gibson—For improvement of the Mississippi river from its mouth to it head water

Durham and Price—To make trade dollars legal tender

Dibrell—To make trade dollars and other silver coins legal tender

Hunter—To require the secretary of the treasury to receive trade dollars in exchange for legal tender silver dollars

Fort—For like purpose and to stop further coinage of trade dollars

All bills on this subject were on motion of Mr Stephens referred to the committee on coinage, of which he is chairman

Brentan In relation to the expulsion from Germany of a naturalized American citizen — Julius Bauer

Harrison—For the admission and registry of foreign built ships After a struggle was made over the reference this bill as between the committees on commerce and ways and means, it was finally referred to the committee on commerce

Springer—For the termination of the naturalization treaty with Prussia

The joint resolution introduced to day by Representative Springer requests the president to give notice to the government of Germany that the treaty of February 22d, 1868, known as the Bancroft treaty, will be terminated by this government at the end of twelve months after giving notice The objectionable part of the treaty is the clause which provides with reference to naturalization the intention to return to one s adopted country may be held to exist when a person naturalized in one country resides more than two years in the other If the Bancroft treaty be terminated the rights of citizens of either country, residing in the other, will be determined by the treaty of 1828 which recognizes equal rights of the native and naturalized citizens, to sojourn in the territories of each government

The house committee on elections to day decided to receive additional testimony in the contested election cases of Harrolson vs Shelley, of Alabama, and Frost vs Metcalfe, of Missouri, Shelley and Frost being sitting members A member of the Potter investigation committee stated to day that it was the intention to send a sub committee to New Orleans to continue the investigation there which was terminated by the yellow fever epidemic

The house then went into a committee of the whole on the military academy appropriation bill, which appropriates $276 647, $10 000 below the appropriation of the current year

The military academy and the fortification bills were passed

SENATE

Senator Paddock submitted a resolution instructing the committee on finance to enquire into the expediency of making trade dollars legal tender for all debts, public and private, and providing for the suspension of coinage of the standard silver dollars of 412½ grains, and recoinage of the same into 420 grains, and for such additional coinage of trade dollars as the need of the country may demand It was laid over

Senator Conover submitted a resolution providing for a committee to investigate the home section of the Sundry civil appropriation bill, passed last session, relating to the Hot Springs commission, which was omitted in the enrollment of the bill and which the Senate [illegible] [illegible] matter after the adjournment of Congress Agreed to

Senator [illegible] resolution for inquiry into the [illegible] in the southern states was considered [illegible] by both republican and democratic senators The republicans [illegible] the resolution for adopting [illegible] that the investigation be made by a special committee instead of the judiciary committee The republicans also decided to offer as an amendment a resolution affirming the entire validity of the constitutional amendments and asserting the propriety of enforcing them by appropriate legislation The democratic senators decided to take the position that this resolution should be amended to [illegible] the violation of the election laws or the [illegible] of right of suffrage in both northern and southern states and thus amended to vote for its adoption

Senator Matthews argued that the government would merely guarantee the payment of interest on the bonds of the Texas Pacific road to the extent of nearly two million dollars per annum It was manifest that the indemnity to the government was perfect ultimate loss to the government was impossible unless it should turn out that after the completion of the road it would not be worth the accrued interest, but such a supposition was not to be entertained He did not believe the government of the United States would be called upon to make any advances The Texas Pacific road skirting as it would, the southern boundary of the United States would form a base line from which lateral lines would radiate, attaching a new and profitable trade and soon a market would be found for products of the United State in Mexico The general influence of such a trade over our national interests with Mexico would be powerful The construction of the Texas Pacific road would open by legitimate means the northern states of Mexico to industrial colonies the construction of the Texas Pacific road would result in a saving to the government of more than $2,000 000 per annum It was not fair or just to the present measure to dispose of it upon the summary objection that it was a subsidy He then spoke of the constitutional power of congress to regulate commerce and said the Texas Pacific bill should be passed as a matter of justice to the southern states, as the government owed protection to all and demanded obedience alike from all

Senator Morrill introduced a bill for authorizing the treasury to issue, in exchange for United States notes, coinage certificates of deposit of the denomination of ten dollars, or any multiple thereof, not exceeding one hundred dollars, bearing interest at the rate of 3 65 per cent per annum, and convertible at any time within one year into the four per cent bonds described in the refunding act and the money so received shall be applied to the payment of the 5 20 bonds in the mode prescribed by said act And he is authorized to prescribe suitable rules and regulations in conformity with this act

Senator Beck submitted a resolution that the secretary of the treasury be directed to inform the senate what amount and denomination of silver coin has been received in payment of customs dues since the beginning of the current fiscal year, and whether it has been applied the silver coin so received, in the whole or payment of the interest on bonds and notes of the United States and if it has not been so applied to state the reason why it has been applied to that purpose in part only, and to state what portion has been so used, and on what character of obligation Also that he be directed to inform the senate the amount of interest he has paid on bonds and notes of the United States since the current fiscal year began and the amount of such interest he has paid in gold and silver coin respectively Senator Edmunds said "I should like to have had an amendment to have the secretary show what kind of silver coin he has been [illegible] we may know if there was any subsidiary coin paid

At the conclusion of the morning business Senator Matthews called up the Texas Pacific bill and made an address in favor thereof

An executive session followed When the doors were re opened the senate adjourned till to morrow

GENERAL NEWS.

Butter and Cheese.

NEW YORK, December 3 About 3,000 people visited the dairy fair to night A butter and cheese factory was in operation in one corner of the building Gen B F Butler spoke on the developments of the products of the cow and said that it was amazing that over $350 000 000 worth of butter and cheese had been produced in this country during the past year He recommended a sub division of land in this country, as in France, which is more productive than this country because the lands are limited in extent and more highly cultivated The aggregation of large quantities has always resulted in poor tillage and little productiveness

Mr Wood s Attack upon the President

CHICAGO, December 3 Washington specials agree that Representative Wood indulging in the unusual attack upon the president, immediately after the reading of the message yesterday will give the republicans an opportunity for bringing up the very questions regarding the elections, which the democrats generally wished to keep out of sight Partisan debate is now pretty certain to occur

Butler s Mistake

NEW YORK, December 3 —Butler's letter regarding Kearney says the latter came to him as the acknowledged leader of his party in California, elected to the constitutional convention, and he thought Kearney had received the endorsement of the city of San Francisco This was why he called on Kearney He says his experience will teach him to make enquiries hereafter when California sends her representative men to Massachusetts

The Grain Corner

CHICAGO, Dec 3 —The corner in wheat develops very slowly, the advance of to day being less than one cent over yesterday s close James R Kune of California is here, but refuses to state his plans regarding the deal, and grain operators are all entirely in the dark The reporters have failed to draw from any of the persons supposed to be interested in the corner even the least hint of what the manipulators will do It is not improbable that Kune, seeing the heavy receipts undiminished, is considering the propriety of withdrawing for the present, as it is evident that much more money will be required to hold the incoming product than was at first calculated Receipts to day were 238,000 bushels and shipments 70 000, The average daily receipts have been over two hundred thousand bushels every five days and if the receipts keep up it will make the receipts for December 6 000 000 bushels There is as yet however no sign of weakening on the bull side and a stampede could easily be made which would result in a material advance

The Bulgarian Throne

NEW YORK—December 3 —Mr Childs of the Philadelphia Ledger is reported to have said that the idea of establishing Grant on the Bulgarian throne originated with Forney, Gen Badeau, Mackay of Nevada Dr Evans of Paris and himself He says Grant has not known of it except in a general way through Badeau, but thinks he will be favorable to it The matter will be settled at the great capitals of Europe Mackay is willing to spend a large sum for legitimate expenses to bring it about

The Indian Question

WASHINGTON D C, Dec 3 —Gen Sherman to day submitted to the joint commission on the transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department a number of official documents verifying his previous statements regarding the advisability of the transfer The general described the sufferings of the Indians and said the army should either be transferred to the interior department, or the Indian bureau to the war department Under the existing management the government was heavily taxed The poor Indian was driven to the wall, notwithstanding it was apparent that twenty years hence the American people would reach eighty millions in population and as the population increased, the Indians reservations would be required for cultivation, and the Indian should be cared for now, that he might be prepared for any emergency The total number of Indians is nearly 220 000 and under military management a greater number could be placed under civilian agents always however, retaining military power over them With reference to the proposition of the Indian bureau to arm the young bucks as soldiers or policemen, General Sherman said the idea was unadvisable, and it was simply arming better the enemy Should the transfer be made, an Indian war would be unheard of, all trouble could be foreseen and avoided [illegible] Quartermaster General Meigs contended that the transfer must prove beneficial to both the Indians and the army

[illegible]

CHICAGO, Dec 3 —The Times' Washington special says There will be no difficulty regarding most of the appropriation bills The only contest now probably, is the army appropriation

Comments on the president's message by the morning press are not noteworthy It is spoken of as a plain setting out of facts in forcible language, and creditable in all its particulars

The Tribune s Washington special says Senator Ben Hill, in an interview referring to the southern portion of the message said it was an outrage of really criminal proportions There is said to be not the slightest foundation upon which to bas the absurd charges of cruelty and violence toward the blacks, to which the people of the south have been charged, Senator Hill claimed to be thoroughly familiar with the occurrences in South Carolina He says the experience of the blacks in Georgia is that they are better under democratic rule, and that the strongest supporters that the democratic policy has are the colored people of Georgia Ben Hill says the south is solid for the democracy for all times to come; our people would rather be placed in their graves than again be subjected or affiliated with radicalism in any shape This, he said, is a thing I very much regret, sectionalism in any form is deplorable Commenting further on the hostility of the south to republicanism, Hill said We like the president, he has expressed kindly feelings toward us, and followed them with kindly deeds, and our people entertain toward him and his policy nothing but most cordial feelings I have been credited with enmity to Hayes. There is not a word of truth in it, for it is a base falsehood

Completion of a New Railroad

ST PAUL, December 3 —The last rail laid this afternoon on the Pembina branch of the Canada Pacific, connecting with the Manitoba branch of the St Paul & Pacific, ten miles north of the international boundary, gives the province of Manitoba the first railroad communication with the outside world through the completed line from Winnipeg to St Paul, 487 miles

Municipal Difficulties

ST LOUIS, Dec. 3 In accordance with a resolution passed by the city council of East St Louis yesterday, City Marshal Carpenter took possession to day of the market house, the headquarters of Mayor Bowman, together with the city records contained therein, and conveyed the latter to the head quarters of the metropolitan police force Mayor Bowman protested against the proceeding, but offered no resistance, leaving his office quietly when Marshal Carpenter directed him to Mayor Bowman issued a proclamation this evening reciting the action of the city marshal, appealing to the citizens to preserve the peace, stating that he will take legal means to reinstate himself in the city building, announcing that in the meantime his office and that of the city clerk and other officers, will be in the building on the opposite street This is one of the results of the embroglio between the mayor and general law council on one side, and the charter council on the other, which prevailed and caused so much trouble last summer

The Commercial Convention

NEW ORLEANS, December 3 The commercial convention assembled at the Varieties theatre and was called to order by General Cyrus Bussey, chairman of the executive committee Governor Nicholls delivered an address of welcome and was frequently applauded Mr Murray, of Kentucky, replied General Bussey, as chairman of the committee of arrangements, then addressed the convention on the navigation of the Mississippi river, showing that that stream—is the only means of transportation advantageous to the country He drew attention to the fact that our government was blind to her own interests by allowing a great natural advantage to be ruined He also favored the Texas Pacific railroad

Edward D Hilton, of Milwaukee, temporary chairman also addressed the convention

A committee of one from each state was appointed on credentials After a recess the convention permanently organized by the election of General Fitzpatrick Lee of Virginia president H G Hale, of New Orleans, secretary and a vice president from each state represented Committees were appointed on the Pacific road, improvement of the Mississippi river and on foreign trade after which the convention adjourned until to-morrow

According to the official returns for congressmen in New Jersey, the Republicans cast 90,118 votes, the Democrats 80,029 votes, and the National party 24 609 votes. In 1876 the vote stood, Hayes 103,517, Tilden 115,962, and Cooper 714 The north was pretty solid this year.

A Denver Tribune heading over the president's message is, "He reluctantly admits the failure of his policy." We don't find anything in the message to warrant this We gather, [illegible] not ... the ... but took the cue from some of the Washington dispatches of the Chicago ... Inter-Ocean.

According to ... J. H. Kimball, Republican, has 9,5/8 ... for governor in New ... and ... R. Bradley, Democrat, 9,151. The Republican candidate for ... was elected by a majority of 680. The Republicans elected all the state officers except lieutenant-governor and superintendent of schools.

Ex-Gov. J. D Cox has suggested, in an interview, a new name for the presidential race in 1880. The secretary of the treasury thinks the sales will average from $20,000,000 to $25 000,000 per month during the next year As these bonds will take the place of the six per cent bonds a saving of from $400,000 to $500,000 per month in interest will be effected.

Poor Nasby is getting disheartened The result of the November elections has prostrated him He says, "I am entirely satisfied that I shood hev bin happier if I had never bin born. Life is to me an unendin suckcesshun uv disasters Occashunally there is a gleam of sunshine, a rift thro the clouds that envelop me, but it don't last For sixteen long years I hev bin strugglin, wrastlin a backholt with disaster, and disaster hez generally flopped me. I am flopped now, and am so sore wit brooses that it don t seem to me that I shel ever git up agin It is a singular thing that disaster and I hev had so many encounters, and that the result hez ever bin the same

A prominent democrat of Alabama writes in regard to the election of Lowe the independent, "We have had a hard fight in this congressional district, and defeated Garth, the present member, who was the nominee of the extreme Bourbon wing of the party Lowe, the member-elect, is remarkably conservative but somewhat mixed on the greenback question He will not act with the democratic party in caucuses, or as against the administration He was elected by the combined vote of the republicans and independent-democrats overcoming a majority of about 6,000 and receiving a majority of 2,000, making a change in the district of 8,000 If we had received proper encouragement to enable us to canvass the state thoroughly, we could have elected five out of eight members With proper encouragement in 1880, we can carry the state for Hayes or any other conservative as against Tilden or any other Democrat This letter may be very sanguine, but it clearly intimates that there is ground for believing that the south may not be solid in 1880

The director of the mint favors the continued coinage of the trade dollar for export purposes He says it is very popular in China, which has no mint and is obliged to depend on foreign countries for its coin. It seems that most of the trade dollars now in circulation in this country have been coined since it was deprived of its limited legal tender value and the government received nothing except the mere cost of coinage The coiners have therefore made about ten per cent on all they have put in circulation If the project of making these a legal tender should be successful, a great profit would accrue to a few parties in this country and it would also draw home a large amount of the trade dollars now in China and thus introduce much confusion into our currency from having two legal tender silver dollars of unequal value

An Expensive Funeral

It is said now that the campaign in Massachusetts cost Butler $250,000 Talk about your expensive funeral why here is money enough expended on the burial of a mere "working man" to buy half the kings of Europe and give them each a row of hacks a quarter of a mile long, with a boiled shirt and plug hat for every driver

BAY ... Stuffing

The charge of Judge Mackey that one of the Charleston News and Courier men stuff[ed] 2,500 ballots in a single box is fully sustained by the report of the supervisor of elections in the third ward, Charleston He saw W L. Daggett endeavor to put a large package of tickets in the box, and one of the Democratic managers force them in with his pencil No defense of Daggett has yet appeared, and yet the Democrats claim that the election was legal Inter-Ocean.

"It is pleasant to tell stories to little boys, and even full grown men who seem to be ... no more than little boys. Here is one, told ... yesterday, that will do for both It was a calm, still eve in early spring, and the god of day was slowly descending in his chariot of flame, &c when two young men twins "aged twenty-five years, respectively, might have been seen in the act of going into a copartnership in a wholesale business with the details of which both were equally well acquainted One of them insisted that they should spend $3,000 in advertising in the newspapers the first year and $5,000 the next The other insisted that they shouldn t As they could not agree they dissolved copartnership at the outset, each going into the business by himself, and not three hundred yards from the other The one advertised in the newspapers, the other didn t You can easily guess the result or, if you can t, other people can At the end of the second year the one with the help of printer s ink, had cleared some $27,000 while the other, without the help of printer s ink had cleared out with another man s wife, and was found by his creditors to have cleared nothing else from the start

EDISON'S COURTSHIP

How the Great Inventor Made Love and Married

The story of Edison's courtship, while it lacks the roseate tinge of romance, illustrates the man's faculty of going to the heart of things with the smallest possible amount of circumlocution. When he was experimenting, some years ago, with the Little automatic telegraph system, he perfected a contrivance for producing perforations in paper by means of a key board. Among the young women whom he employed to manipulate these machines, with a view to testing their capacity for speed, was a rather demure young person who attended to her work and never raised her eyes to the incipient genius. One day Edison stood observing her as she drove down one key after another with her plump fingers, until, growing nervous under his prolonged stare, she dropped her hands idly in her lap and looked up helplessly into his face. A genial smile, such as irreverent paragraphists have referred to as "the Edison grin," overspread Edison's face, and he presently inquired rather abruptly,

"What do you think of me, little girl? Do you like me?"

"Why, Mr. Edison, you frighten me. I that is—I"

"Don't be in a hurry about telling me. It doesn't matter much—unless you would like to marry me."

The young woman was disposed to laugh, but Edison went on

"O, I mean it. Don't be in a rush though. Think it over, talk to your mother about it, and let me know soon as convenient. Tuesday, say. How will Tuesday suit you, next week Tuesday, I mean?"

Edison's shop was at Newark in those days, and one night a friend of his, employed in the main office of the Western Union telgraph company in New York, returning home by the last train, saw a light in Edison's private laboratory, and climbed the dingy stairs to find his friend in one of his characteristic stupors, half awake and half dying, over some intricate point in electrical science which was baffling him.

"Hello, Tom," cried the visitor, cheerily, "what are you doing here this late? Aren't you going home?"

"What time is it?" inquired Edison, sleepily rubbing his eyes and stretching like a lion suddenly aroused.

"Midnight, easy enough. Come along."

"Is that so?" returned Edison in a dreamy sort of way. "By George, I must go home, then. I was married to-day."

Marriage was an old story with him. He had been wedded to electrical hobbies for years. But, in spite of his seeming indifference on "the most eventful day" in his life, he makes a good husband, and the demure little woman of the perforating machine smilingly rules domestic destinies at Menlo Park, and proudly looks across the fields where the chimneys rise and her husband still works on the problems that made him a truant on his wedding day. A swarm of children pluck her gown to share their mother's smile, and lay in wait to climb into their father's lap and muss his hair with as great a relish as if he were not the greatest genius of his time.

Josh Billings's Proverbs

Truth is sed to be stranger than fickshun—it is, to most pholks.

If yu undertake to hire a man to be honest, yu will hav to raize hiz wages every morning, and watch him dredphull cluss besides.

I hav finally cum to the konclushun that if I kant prove a thing without betting 5 dollars on it, the thing has got a dredphull weak spot sumwhare.

The reputashun that a man gits from hiz ansestors often wants az mutch altering to fit him as their old clothes would. It is truly thus.

Yung man, set down and keep still, you will hav plenty ov chances yet to make a phool ov yureself before you die.

It is a wise man who proffits bi hiz own experience, but it is a good deal wizer one who lets the rattlesnaik bite the other phellow.

I never question a suckcess enny more than I do the right ov a bull dog to lie in hiz own gateway. No I don't.

Married life iz a little game, in which the woman, if she iz called, iz almost sure to have a strate flush.

The things that i kan't prove i belive the most. i beleave that one apple iz sour, and another one sweet, but i will give enny highly eddicated man a span ov matched mules who will tell me what makes them so.

The best thing i kno ov is a fust rate wife, and the next thing is a sekond rate one.

There iz only one thing that kan be sed in favor ov tite boots: they make a man forgit all his other sorrows.

Caushun iz a good thing for a man to hav, but when he haz got so much ov it, that he iz afrade to tutch a kast iron lion, for fear it will bite, ignorance iz what's the matter ov him.

Whenever you cum akrost a man who distrusts everyboddy, yu have found one whom it is safe for everyboddy to distrust.

There iz 2 things in this world for which we are never fully prepared, and that iz twins.

Thare aint nothing so cheap as bad spellin, and if it is sutch an element ov suckcess az sum shrewd kritticks hav diskovered, they owe it to their aus, and assines, to adopt it at once and bekum ritch and famus.

The world all praze the philosophers, but toss their pennys into the caps ov the monkeys.

It iz allwus safe to follow the religious beleaf that our mother taught us—thare never was a mother yet who taught her child to be an infidel.

How kan yu expekt to find two people in this world who are alike when yu kant even find one who is alike half ov the time?—Billings' Almanax for 1879.

FURS!

In getting out your Furs this season you doubtless find them more or less in need of repairs. They may be moth-eaten, or worn at the edges, or torn or soiled, or perhaps require new lining and trimmings. I am happy in being able to state that I can remedy all such defects so completely that the articles will appear like new. I alter and lengthen the old-fashioned short seal sacques to the present style, and make-over old furs in any manner desired.

Almost every family has old furs which have been laid aside—too poor to use, but too good to throw away—which with a little expense could be made to satisfy the requirements of some of its members, made into trimming or lining or utilized in some other way.

I also make to order from new fur, Caps, Gloves, Muffs, Boas, etc., in the finest style.

I shall receive from the east this week a choice line of Seal and other Furs, Fur Trimming, Satins, Loops, Tassels, etc.

Rugs, Robes, Mats, Buckskin Suits, etc., I am making now only to order, as we are crowded with custom work. If you wish any work done please call early and allow us as much time as possible.

Remember the social at the M. E. church to morrow evening. A thorough good time is expected.

Those interested in the organization of Hose company No. 2 are requested to meet at the engine house at 7:30 this evening.

Messrs. Tribe & Jefferay received yesterday an order from a Denver lady for some of their fine stationery. Good joke on Denver.

We learn that several of our citizens have "struck it rich" over on the other side of Pike's Peak, and have staked off a number of claims.

Dr. Smith has had his residence on Pike's Peak avenue raised two feet, and will place a stone wall thereunder. The building has been standing about six years, and the sills were found to be affected with dry rot.

See the advertisement of Messrs. Starkey & Penn, to be found under the head of business locals. They are bound to give satisfaction, and those desiring anything in the line of kindling and stove wood would do well to give them a call, at Crissey's old stand, Tejon street.

Tolliver, the barber, is making arrangements to remodel his bathing rooms as soon as the water works are completed. Instead of three baths as at present, he will have five of the newest pattern, and the rooms will be furnished with taste and neatness. He has concluded to reduce the price of baths to 25 cents, which is certainly a great reduction. We are sure that the gentlemen of our city will appreciate the change which are to be made.

While coming into town with a load of hay last week, Mr. J. G. Moore, who lives near Bijou basin, met with an accident which, although not likely to prove fatal, is a source of great suffering. In coming down a hill near Templeton's Gap, his foot slipped from the brake, causing the wagon to run onto the mules, which immediately started on a run down the hill, and before they could be stopped the wagon and load were overturned. Mr. Moore fell under the load and received severe internal injuries about the back and kidneys. He was brought to this city and placed under the care of a physician, and at last accounts, although suffering very much, was in a fair way of recovery.

The Combination.

The initial performance of this combination was given at Court House hall last evening. A fair audience was in attendance and considerable interest manifested. The principal and most interesting features of the entertainment were the songs and dancing of La Petite Lizzie and Master Harry. Also the performances of the Mendoza Brothers, in their acrobatic feats, some of which were truly wonderful. Foy and Thompson, in their song and dance specialties, received well merited applause. The balance of the company sustained their parts very creditably. The second and last performance will be given this evening.

The Water Works.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon the last of the fifteen miles of pipe was laid, completing the work of pipe-laying. This has been accomplished in forty-one days' time, or thirty-eight and a half actual working days, an incredibly short time for work of this kind. There is no question, however, but that the work has been well done. The close personal supervision which the contractors have given it is a sufficient guarantee of this. At 12 o'clock yesterday the first test of the pipe leading to the reservoir was made. Some fears were entertained regarding the 8-inch pipe from the manufactory of H. R. Smith & Co., of Columbus, Ohio. This was a very poor article, but the contractors, Messrs. Russell & Alexander, had used every endeavor to discard the worst. The water came rushing through the 10-inch pipe into the 8-inch, where it encountered three weak joints, which burst, making it necessary to shut off the water. These breaks will be repaired by 10 o'clock this morning, at which time a second test will be made. It is expected that the water will reach the reservoir some time to-day, and from thence it will be turned into the city pipes probably to-morrow. Our citizens will welcome its advent with joy.

SATURDAY'S SEQUEL.

A Temperance Argument.

Yesterday there was a sequel to the lawless and disgraceful scenes of Saturday. The following are the particulars: Mr. F. H. Austin was sitting in his room at the Colorado Springs hotel when he was informed, that R. V. Kennedy, the proprietor of the City Drug Store, wished to see him. He immediately went to the office. Mr. Kennedy opened the conference by asking why he told Mr. Giddings that he (Kennedy) lied. Mr. Austin denied that he had done so and said that he was not accustomed to using such language. He had said however that he believed Mr. Kennedy sold liquor on Thanksgiving day in violation of the city ordinance. Mr. Kennedy asked him to go with him and see Mr. Giddings, but he refused. Then Kennedy commenced an unprovoked assault upon him, Mr. Austin all the time protesting that he did not indulge in such beastly practices. This little set-to was interrupted by some of the gentlemen in the office. Mr. Kennedy then indulged in considerable abusive and indecent language and a good many threats, and said he would whip him if he waited a whole year.

Mr. Austin, finding that he could have no peace until this matter was settled, determined to have Kennedy bound over to keep the peace and asked Kennedy to go to Judge Smith's office with him. Mr. Kennedy complied, and, during the walk from the hotel to the judge's office repeatedly challenged Austin to fight, offering such inducements as his gold watch. On their arrival at the office they found it closed and turned to go down stairs. Mr. Kennedy then said to Mr. Austin, "If you intend to have me fined for assault on you I will give you some reason for complaint," and then struck him on the side of the head. The assailant's hands were immediately grasped by Austin who in every way tried to avoid a fight. He retreated to Leonard & Co's store holding Kennedy's hands a part of the time to prevent further disturbance, but his peaceful efforts were of no avail. A few blows were exchanged and the belligerent Kennedy found himself at the mercy of the assailed. Kennedy was on his back with Austin on top, but the latter did not use his advantage. He remarked to Kennedy, "You see I am stronger than you are, and can easily whip you, but I don't want to. If you will behave yourself I will let you up." Kennedy then promised to be good and was given his freedom. Thus ingloriously ended, what a few moments before, judging from the swaggering remarks of Kennedy, promised to be one of the most sanguinary fights of the season. Afterwards Kennedy was arrested for assault and battery, and, pleading guilty, was fined ten dollars and costs.

Throughout this whole affair Mr. Austin acted with great forbearance and moderation, and used no force except in the strictest sense for self defense. He has acted in these liquor suits in a disinterested way as a good citizen seeking the moral welfare of the city. He had no ends to subserve other than the observance of laws which, in our opinion, are of vital importance to the good order and peace of this city. We heartily commend his actions, and trust that others with like moral courage and lofty purpose will follow his example.

We may add that Mr. Kennedy, by his actions yesterday, has done more to arouse the temperance sentiment of the community than a dozen mass meetings. He little understands the people he has cast his lot among, if he thinks such actions will be tolerated.

The element which we properly styled "hoodlum," and which he so well represented yesterday, shall not rule. The issue presented to our people on Saturday was more clearly presented yesterday, and if we mistake not, will be most emphatically met by them.

Directly after the trial yesterday afternoon we saw a young man, or rather boy, perhaps sixteen years old, come from out of Mr. Kennedy's place, drunk. The majority of the people of this place want no such miserable holes open for the destruction of our lads, and if Mr. Kennedy does not choose to obey the law, he should be made to. We know this is strong language, and may be considered personal, but it is time to use it when our laws are defied, our young men debauched, and peaceful citizens are attacked in our streets.

A Deserved Compliment.

The Trinidad Enterprise pays the following deserved compliment to one of Colorado's most popular officials:

Among the gentlemen that will probably be dropped out from the new management is Mr. D. C. Dodge, for several years general freight and passenger agent, and now general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande company. Mr. Dodge had, even before coming to Colorado, made an enviable reputation as a railroad man, and since assuming a position on the Denver & Rio Grande, he has added thereto until he is justly regarded as one of the brightest railroad men in the west. The writer has the best of reasons for endorsing this opinion, for during a long and intimate acquaintance with railroad movements in Denver he has never once found the judgment of Mr. Dodge in fault. Always courteous and willing to oblige, Mr. Dodge is nevertheless a thorough business man, keeping an eye single to the interests of his company, and never suffering those interests to be jeopardized in any way. His position as the active manager of the freight department of a line forming a connecting link between two great trunk lines between whom the most intense rivalry existed, was one of unusual difficulty, and yet he managed the affairs of his company in such a manner as to win not only the respect, but the active friendship of the officers of both the Kansas Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe roads, as well as the business men with whom he was brought in contact. We have it on good authority that Mr. Dodge could remain with the new management (if the change took place yesterday), but that he could not, in justice to himself, accept any positions that could be offered him under the lease. Whoever may be his successor will find it hard to fill his place. There are few railroad men in Colorado who cannot be better spared in the business community than D. C. Dodge and we still hope that some plan may be devised whereby his services may be retained in this state.

C. Y. McMORRIS.

Personal

Mrs. M. C. Wilbur returned yesterday from an extended eastern trip among friends.

Mr. Clarence Pullen, of Portland, was in the city yesterday on a short visit and leaves to-day on the south bound train.

Prof. Oliver H. Matthews, of Greene's smelting works of Silverton, came into the city Monday and leaves to-day for Leadville.

We are glad to see so great an improvement in the health of Mr. A. N. Staples. Only another evidence of the health-giving air of Colorado.

O. Parker, the paint man, returned from Canon City yesterday. He is now, as ever, ready to undertake all jobs in the line of painting, etc.

J. T. Owen and wife left yesterday for a visit to Syracuse, N. Y., where Mr. Owen expects to recover from the severe effects of the lightning stroke he received some months ago.

We acknowledge a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. W. T. Harris, of the Bangor Commercial. He has just returned from a trip to Silver Cliff and strange to say reports no shooting scrape there during his twenty-four hours' visit.

Large numbers of people continue to arrive in this city. The hotels and boarding houses are unusually crowded with guests.

Mining Notes.

Mathews, Morris & Co. buy about $25,000 worth of ore per month. Mr. Mathews informs us that the first six months' business of the year was $282,100.76.

Ten mile district will be a famous locality before another winter rolls around. Recent assays have returned 1,800 ounces of silver per ton from heavy deposits of mineral.

The Long and Dery mine, at Leadville, has been bonded for sixty days by Mr. Robert Teats, of this city, in behalf of Senator Teller, for the sum of $260,000. Times.

The Farwell reduction works are now run by water power, which is taken from Clear creek, at Devil's Gate, through about 1,400 feet of iron pipe. The mill shipped four 90 pound bricks last week for five working days, averaging about $1,200 to $1,400 per brick.

The Malta Smelting works in 20 days have smelted over 600 tons of ore into 130 tons of bullion averaging 270 ozs. of silver per ton. Operations were then suspended on account of the water jacket having sprung a leak, but a few days will see everything running in the usual successful manner.

The recent strike upon the Eaton or triangle claim on Fryer hill is developing rapidly into a treasure find. Latest reports from the mine states that at a depth of ten feet mineral has been sunk into and bottom not yet reached. Dr. A. A. Smith who owns one-half of three-sixteenths of the property, offered to sell his portion on the morning of the strike, and before he had been informed of it, for the sum of $135. He values his interest now at several thousand. Eclipse.

We have been shown the finest specimens of ruby silver and grey copper ore recently taken from the Equator mine that it has ever been our good fortune to look upon. The specimens showed a solid vein of ruby silver and grey copper from two to three inches thick, the ruby forming a large percentage of the whole vein, which apparently runs through a large block of solid ore composed of galena and blende, which also carries a large quantity of both of these rich ores.—Georgetown Courier.

The latest mining sensation has been caused by a rich strike of mineral on the Double-Decker, a claim situated a little to the left of the road leading up that gulch, nearly opposite the mines of the Argentine company. Reports of assays indicate a very high grade of ore. One assay gave a result of seventy-two ounces gold and fourteen hundred ounces silver. But up to the time of writing there has been no mill runs although there is no reason to believe that the ore will not mill high. This strike has caused no small amount of excitement among owners in that neighborhood, and prices for claims have advanced rapidly in consequence. Eclipse.

The entire machinery to be used at the deep prospecting shaft being sunk by Fryer & Co. on the ridge below town has arrived and will soon be in operation hoisting water so that work can continue uninterruptedly. The engine is of sixteen horse power with a stationary boiler, and is supplied with pumps capable of hoisting 275 gallons per minute. The shaft is being put down rapidly, three eight-hour shifts being employed. The whole work is under the supervision of W. H. Lovell. Should Fryer & Co be as successful as they anticipate a regular mining furore will be the result. Eclipse.

The Golden smelting works, through Prof. Board, have made arrangements for receiving large and regular quantities of Leadville ores for reduction. The supply now comes over the South Park road to Denver and thence to Golden over the Colorado Central. If the arrangement is made for laying the track on the Golden & South Platte to a connection with the South Park, as is expected, it will be a big thing for our smelters until the Leadville extension of the C. C. is completed. There will be a demand for fully 100 tons per day of smelting ores by the early spring, when the new works now in progress shall be completed. Transcript.

A WAR INCIDENT.

DEAR DOCTOR: You did a good turn for me; you saved my life. To be sure you left me minus a leg in doing it, but life is sweet even but with one foot to bobble through the world with. It was down at ——; it was a bloody day but a glorious one. You remember how but I beg pardon. I always forget myself when I get talking about those old times. This is what I want to tell you. One morning last week I awoke feeling very strange. For a time my liver had been rebellious, but I had anticipated no trouble. But that morning I discovered that my stomach had joined the revolt and a lively skirmish was being carried on that threatened to end in a hard battle. The suddenness of the revolt put the head-quarters in confusion, and all seemed hopeless till, suddenly, like one of those flashing orders of Grant, came the command, "Get Dr. Sherman Compound Prickly Ash Bitters." A courier was immediately dispatched for them and finding them only at Sagendorf & Taylor's, he brought me two bottles, and now what I want to say is this: I feel like a volunteer who has just received his commission, or, better still, as well as Grant did when he held Lee's sword. And I want to advise all who suffer from a rebellious liver and stomach to "fight it out on this line," and they will surely be victorious.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of our people are at present worrying themselves almost to death over this vexed question, even to the extent of neglecting their business, their homes and their duty to their families, there are still thousands upon thousands of smart, hard working, intelligent men pouring into the great Arkansas Valley, the Garden of the West, where the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad offers them their choice of 2,500,000 acres of the finest farming lands in the world at almost their own prices. If you do not believe it, write to the undersigned, who will tell you where you can get a cheap land exploring ticket, and how, at a moderate expense, you can see for yourself and be convinced.

A Claim at Silver Cliff

May be a good investment, but the probabilities are that scores of persons will

Unless they make the purchase of

CLOTHING!

AT THE STORE OF F. E. DOW

☞ No one runs any risk; he can see just what he is purchasing; will be sure to get a GOOD BARGAIN, and always leave the store better off than when he entered it. My stock, embracing as it does, a GREAT VARIETY, IN QUALITY AND PRICE, of

was purchased on a low market, and is being disposed of at THE MOST REASONABLE FIGURES. I do not claim to be selling 25 per cent. cheaper than anybody else, but I do claim that my figures are such that I am gaining and retaining a liberal patronage. For this I return thanks, and promise to do my best to meet the wants and suit the purses of the people.

Yours, truly,

F. E. DOW.
